

Annual Report 2019 / 2020

Overview

For more than 25 years, Rotorua Energy Charitable Trust has been making a difference in Rotorua by supporting those who are working to make our community a better place.

Formed in 1994 out of the sale of Rotorua Electricity Limited, few could have imagined the way the initial capital of $32 million would impact on the lives of so many in the community, through the years.

Since then, funds have grown to $148 million, with more than $124 million invested back into the local community. In the past 12 months alone, the Trust has committed $10 million to the rebuild of Rotorua's iconic museum, while helping organisations as diverse as Mokoia Community Centre, Ko Te Tuara Totara O Fordlands and the Rotorua Chinese Community Association carry out the crucial work they do every day.

The Trust continues to focus its funding on the areas where we believe we can make the greatest impact – Health and the First 1,000 Days, Education and Employment, Strengthening Communities, Vibrancy and Energy and the Environment.

As the needs of the community change, the Trust is ready and able to evolve to meet those needs – supporting the community today while ensuring we are in the position to continue giving for generations to come.

From the Chairman

Kia ora koutou,

When reflecting on the year that's been, it's almost impossible not to acknowledge the events of recent months and the significant impact the effects of COVID-19 has had, and will continue to have, on our community.

The impact of COVID-19 was felt on the Trust's investment portfolio and is reflected in our 31 March financial results. While markets have recovered from the initial COVID-related downturn, the Trust expects that there will be financial turbulence for some time yet. The Trust, however, is committed to supporting our community through these times.

It's important to acknowledge the efforts of both Trust staff and my fellow Trustees in acting swiftly to support our community during the lockdown. Our people acted quickly and proactively during the lockdown to ensure those doing important mahi in our community had the means to do so. This highlights the dedication of both staff and elected members to truly make a difference.

Making a difference drives our Trustees. 2019 marked the third year of a tightknit group of Trustees, and of course, the triennial Trust elections. While we said farewell to Sandra Kai Fong, who stood down after nine years of dedicated service to the Trust (and was immediately elected to the Rotorua Lakes Council as the third highest polling candidate), it was pleasing to see the four existing Trustees re-elected also as the highest polling candidates – showing confidence in their work over the previous three years.

The Trust is very pleased to welcome two new members, community stalwarts Gregg Brown and Mike Keefe, who have both brought with them significant and diverse experiences, to the advantage of the Trust. Gregg has taken the role of chair of the Audit and Investment sub-committees, while Mike is chairing the large education portfolio. The new Trust is already working well together to set the future direction.

While we look to our future, the legacy of the Trust remains significant. Last June the Trust celebrated 25 years of contributing to the community with a celebration including former Trustees. Such a significant milestone is a humbling reminder of the history the Trust has been built on, the strong foundation we've been left by those who have gone before us and the importance of our role in both supporting the community today, and into the future.

Remembering the past was the focus of the Rotorua Heritage Trust Posterity Project, completed last year. The project has captured Rotorua's history for the first decade of the new century, from 2000 to 2010, with the documentaries now downloadable on film.

Of course, we simply wouldn't be able to achieve what we do on our own. It is the relationships we've developed, and our ability to work collaboratively with others, that has continued to prove crucial.

Whether that's working alongside Government organisations such as Ministry of Education and Ministry of Social Development on shared investments such as the Pūtake Nui project and Awhina School or acting to fill a funding gap, in the case of the kaiwhakahaere role we funded at Sunset Primary School.

We've also helped with additional funding to see the Rotorua BMX Track completed, committed $10 million to the rebuild of the Rotorua Museum and supported iconic events such as Crankworx and the Rotorua Lakeside Concert.

As we reflect on the 12 months that have gone, our Trustees are united in their commitment to making a difference over the next 12 months, in a city that has been significantly impacted by the effects of the COVID-19 virus.

My thanks in these abnormal times to Tony Gill, Jackie McCullough and Lee-Anne Thompson as the management team, and to the commitment of my fellow Trustees.

Kia kaha

Stewart Edward, MNZM

Our Trustees are united in their commitment to making a difference over the next 12 months, in a city that has been significantly impacted by the effects of the COVID-19 virus.

Trust Manager's report

With 25 years of history, Rotorua Trust has seen a number of significant events and important changes in our community. While our heart is in the local community, we can't help but be influenced by the world around us – and that is particularly true with the impact of COVID-19.

COVID had an immediate effect on the value of the Trust's investment portfolio. After a strong investment performance for the first 10 months of the financial year, the Trust fund slipped in value – to $148 million – during February and March as the COVID crisis spread across the globe.

Thanks to the expertise of international fund managers, Mercer (NZ) Ltd, who manage the Trust's investment fund, most of this value was restored early in the current financial year, though turbulent times are expected to continue. Situations such as COVID-19 reinforce the Trust's decision to outsource investments and highlight the importance of diversity in our investment portfolio.

We will continue to maintain a close overview on the Trust's investment fund and have established an investment committee, chaired by Trustee, Gregg Brown, which also includes an external investment consultant to ensure we continue to have the best advice and expertise. This, combined with Mercer's significant experience, gives us confidence that we will weather the storm.

The past year saw a significant improvement in market potential of the Bruce McLaren Motorsport Park in Taupo, which has now listed on the USX. As the largest shareholder – an investment made prior to the Global Financial Crisis – the Trust is increasingly optimistic there will be opportunity to realise a financial benefit from this investment in due course.

We're also continuing to review the ways we can best use our capital to benefit the people of Rotorua. This is a significant discussion and could take the form of impact investing, should the right opportunities be developed. An example of looking at innovative ways we can support projects or organisations beyond the typical grant cycle was the decision to support the QE Health development through a grant and provision of a loan.

While the Trust has provided loans in the past these have been rare. In this instance, by combining a grant with a loan we believe we've been able to make a significant impact in helping this project become a reality, without limiting future granting opportunities.

Operationally, we've continued to enhance our use of technology with the lockdown and social distancing requirements prompting us to hold a number of meetings via Zoom technology. Our Facebook following continues to increase – doubling over the past year – and using social media to reach the city's next generation will continue to be a focus.

The Trust is at an exciting stage as we move into the COVID-19 recovery period and consider its role in helping the city bounce back – and we are well positioned to achieve this.

The Rotorua community elected a strong governance board at the 2019 Trust elections with all trustees bringing a range of strengths and experience, united in their desire to make a positive difference in our city.

Trustees are supported by passionate and committed staff. My compliments to Grants Manager, Jackie McCullough, who continues to support community groups through the funding process and help make important connections with other funders, and to Trust secretary and administrator Lee-Anne Thompson, a key first point of contact. As the Trust celebrated its 25th birthday last year, Lee-Anne too marked 25 years working for the Trust – a very significant milestone.

Finally, I acknowledge the efforts of the hundreds of community groups and their supporters whose tireless efforts make a difference in our Rotorua community. We are privileged to be able to work with you.

Nga mihi

Tony Gill

Health

Getting people off the couch and to the start line of one of the running events on Rotorua Marathon day is the life - changing goal behind the Kia Tu, Kia Ora programme. The partnership between Lake City Athletics Club and Athletics New Zealand Club has supported 200 Rotorua people improve their health and wellbeing.

The group made up of all different people, gather to run or walk in the Redwoods Forest to promote lifestyle changes for physical and mental wellness together.

"The $13,000 funding has helped to provide such a positive and happy experience for so many – it is truly life - changing for some of these people who never imagined they would ever enjoy running."

- Annemarie Gallagher, Convenor

Strengthening Communities

The heart of Fordlands, the Ko Te Tuara Totara o Fordlands (Fordlands Community Centre) was granted $34,320 towards getting the centre thriving for the community.

The grant funded three part time roles to facilitate the community hub allowing it to hold successful programmes that engage youth in higher education, employment, sports and music. All of the programmes are about providing better opportunities which will ultimately lead to a safe and happy community.

"We are grateful for the support of Rotorua Trust that is helping our organisation to grow and meet the needs of the Fordlands community."

- Ana Philips, Fordlands Community Centre Manager

Education

An innovative digital project that gives students more access to digital technology and engineering experiences is sparking passion in a new generation.

Run by the Rotorua Lakes Council, the Growing Digital Technology Project received $30,000 towards the development of aquabotics and robotics courses allow students to learn accompanied by industry mentors and supported teachers.

"Thanks to Rotorua Trust funding this project we have been able to engage and offer a range of different skills to kids such as welding, engineering and measurement to design and begin building electric go karts."

- Jessica Wilkes, Digital Technology Educator

Vibrancy - Arts & Culture

It's our national day, and for the first time in many years Rotorua hosted a local Waitangi Day event bringing the community together at Ōhinemutu.

Tūhohopū Marae hosted the 'For the Love of the People' Waitangi Day event with a $20,000 grant helping establish Ōhinemutu as Rotorua's official location to acknowledge, promote and celebrate New Zealand's national day to raise cultural awareness and strengthen relationships.

"The funding from Rotorua Trust helped make a real difference. Their support helped create a vibrant atmosphere with two stages, a big screen for better viewing as well as seating and shade so guests could enjoy the range of entertainment on the day."

- Renee Nathan, Event Coordinator

Vibrancy - Sport

Drawing crowds from across Aotearoa and bringing together whānau Māori, the National Māori Basketball Championships and Cultural Tournament in Rotorua is the biggest annual basketball tournament in Aotearoa.

Promoting Te Ao Māori and kapa haka through this tournament has improved the wellbeing and fitness of all ages and has strengthened iwi connections.

"We thank Rotorua Trust for the support given to run the annual Māori Basketball NZ National Championships. Without this support, we would not have been able to bring this event to the Rotorua and broader national and international community."

- Pene Hippolite, General Manager Māori Basketball NZ

Environment

With a $3,000 grant the New Zealand Landcare Trust is now able to upskill local citizens to monitor water quality with their 'Citizen Scientist' project.

The project creates a sense of community with locals becoming kaitiaki (guardians) of the environment by helping monitor the habitat, water quality and flow.

"The funding from Rotorua Trust has allowed the project to take shape and people to step up and have a better understanding of the environmental issues and build their understanding."

- Janie Stevenson, BOP Regional Coordinator of NZ Landcare

Long term target asset allocation

Our investments

- What began as a strong year for the Rotorua Trust investment portfolio rapidly took a challenging turn as a result of the market impacts of COVID-19 pandemic. For the year ended 31 March 2020, Rotorua Trust's investments returned -1.6%.
- Rotorua Trust has a highly diversified investment portfolio, investing in 70 strategies across 17 sub-asset classes
- About 65% of the portfolio is invested in growth assets
- A core investment belief of Rotorua Trust is sustainable investing, it's as much about what we do invest in as what we do not
- The Trust investments exclude controversial weapons and tobacco manufacturers/producers.

Some of the areas the Trust holds investments in:

Green property

– including a warehouse custom built to utilise solar energy, which produces enough energy to power 250 homes.

The Water Sector

– including a company which has both reduced carbon emissions by minimising underground installation of water infrastructure, and implemented infrastructure for water recycling.

Renewable Energy

- including one of the largest on-shore wind portfolios in Portugal.

Governance

The Rotorua Energy Charitable Trust (the Trust) is a Charitable Trust established pursuant to the Energy Companies Act 1992. It is incorporated under the Charitable Trust's Act 1957 and the Charities Act 2005.

Role of the Board

The Trust's six Trustees are elected by voters from within the voting district of the Trust on a triennial basis, and are responsible for the direction and supervision of the Trust's business. The Board has determined that its principle responsibility is to oversee the management of the Trust's investments and distribute the income in a manner which balances the needs of today, while maintaining a legacy for the future. In meeting this responsibility, the Board approves the adoption of appropriate strategies and objectives and reviews the performance of the Trust against these objectives. They also approve operating and grant budgets and review operating performance against budgeted performance.

Delegation of authority

The formulation and implementation of reporting procedures, other than those reserved specifically for the Board, are delegated to management. The Board monitors that delegation as part of the formal business of the Board meetings.

Conflicts of interest

It is recognised that Trustees have a wide range of involvement in the Rotorua district community and as such, the potential for conflict will arise from time to time. In order to cover this eventuality, Trustees who disclose their involvement or relationship with other organisations will have the opportunity to respond to any questions from Trustees in respect of any matters in which they have declared an interest, but will leave the meeting before any final discussions or deliberation and voting occur.

Investment

Investment decisions relating to the Trust's Perpetual Capital Fund are undertaken in accordance with the Statement of Investment Policies and Objectives, which has been determined by the Trustees. With the exception of certain legacy investments, which are being exited over time, management of the Trust's investment portfolio has been undertaken by Mercer (NZ) Limited since 1 April 2015.

Grants

Grant requests are received and processed by management. The requests, together with management recommendations, are presented to the Board where a formal decision is made. At the start of each financial year, the Board determines the allocation and level of grant funding to various sectors. The Board also appoints individual Trustees to represent these sectors at monthly Board meetings.

Committees

The Board has formally established three sub-committees to assist with the operation of the Trust.

Executive

SJ Edward and TG Coffey

This committee is responsible for

- Monitoring the systems of corporate governance
- Establishing and reviewing the remuneration policy for the Board
- Reviewing the Trust Manager's performance and remuneration

Audit

MG Raukawa-Tait (until December 2019), TG Coffey, GC Brown (from December 2019) and B Lane (External Member)

This committee is responsible for

- Identifying, assessing and managing business and organisational risk, and assisting the Board in the discharge of its financial reporting responsibilities
- Reviewing the effectiveness of internal control systems
- Providing a formal forum for the Board, auditors and staff
- Ensuring the Board meets financial reporting requirements and that external reporting of information is of a high quality

Investment

G C Brown, TG Coffey, SJ Edward and N Schiltknecht (External Member)

This committee is responsible for

- Reviewing annually the Trust's Investment Policy and SIPO and assisting the Board assess and update as necessary these strategic documents
- Identifying and providing information about investment opportunities, trends and any potential issues
- Working with the Trust Manager in monitoring and reviewing the Trust's investment performance
- Developing a strategic framework for local impact investment and implementation and monitoring of due diligence processes for each opportunity considered
